President’s Message:

Hello Fellow TCART’ers,

I hope you are all enjoying our cool and rainy summer.

First, I want to recognize Erik and Ellen for their service to TCART over the years. Thank you for your hard work and thoughtful leadership.

Congratulations to Jenel Farrell, who will serve as our Treasurer for the next two years. I am excited to take over the role of President, and I look forward to getting to know all of you and working with you on our exciting upcoming projects.

Speaking of upcoming projects, look for the member survey to arrive this fall. Not only do we want to understand the demographics of our membership, we also want to learn what you want from TCART. Please share information about the size and focus of your institution, but also let us know what topics interest you, where you would like to meet during our spring and fall meetings, and what you need from this organization. If you would like to be involved in creating the survey, or helping us to compile the data we collect, please contact an officer.

This fall, we will also host an event for graduate students in the area, both for students attending the Library and Information Science program at St. Catherine’s, and for students who are working on graduate degrees through distance learning programs. This will be a great opportunity to introduce students to the archival profession, archival professionals in the region, and TCART as an organization. If you would like to be involved, please contact one of the officers.

I would like to thank Tony Jahn and Jamie Martin for hosting our spring meeting at the Target Corporation. We had an excellent turn out with 37 attendees, and the tours of the Target History Center were very informative. We also watched an SAA webinar, Introduction to Archives and Web 2.0, which offered a description of popular Web 2.0 tools.

Speaking of the attendance, TCART now has 64 members. Our statewide network continues to grow! Having just attended a workshop on networking this is at the forefront of my mind. I encourage you to reach out to fellow TCART members, chat via email, talk on the telephone, leave the office and grab a cup of tea or coffee with each other. And, when we update the TCART directory this winter, please make sure you are listed as well as your areas of expertise. What better way to serve as a resource for other members then to let them know where to find a local expert.

Stay tuned for more information about our fall meeting. It will be held outside the Twin Cities, as we have been making an effort every other year to meet at locations outside of the metro area. If you would like to host, present, or have a suggestion for a meeting topic, please let one of the officers know.

Lastly, as you know, the Midwest Archives Conference Spring 2011 meeting will be held in St. Paul, April 28-30. The Local Arrangements Committee is looking for volunteers to fill several roles. Are you a writer? Offer to write promotional articles or develop the program. Are you a people person? Contact vendors, serve as vendor liaison, assist with registration, serve as a navigator, or host a tour. Technically inclined? Serve as AV coordinator; contribute to Twitter, Facebook, or the meeting blog. Willing to do anything? Contact Ann Kenne (St. Thomas) or Karen Spilman (U of M) and volunteer your services. This is an exciting opportunity to showcase St. Paul, and our institutions, and you should be involved.

I look forward to seeing you all at our fall meeting.

President’s Updates
Presented by Erik Moore
Old Business:
1. Survey has been postponed so new officers can have a say in the direction of the survey; members should expect more information this summer.
2. Between meeting events and “Student Night”
   - A plan was discussed to have a TCART hosted event for students in the area interested in archives, records management or related interests.
   - Plan is to hold the meeting at St. Catherine Univ., on a Monday, most likely in the fall.
   - Distance learning students who live in the area will also be invited.
   - One possible topic would be a “facilitating conversations” type meeting, meet in small groups and discuss topics such as job hunting, skills needs, expectations.
   - Other possible topic would be a panel style consisting of representatives from different organizations and specialties, allowing students to ask questions and gain info on public, corporate, academic, records management, etc.
   - Volunteers will be needed to plan, attend, serve, or act as a point of contact for online program students.
   - A suggestion was made as digitization/data migration as a good possible topic.
   - The point was made that the style of meeting may vary depending on group size—panel would be easier with a larger group size.

New Business:
1. No new business was proposed.

Officer Elections:
Election of officers for President and Treasurer positions.
- Erik has reached the end of his two, 2 year terms; Ellen is stepping down.
- Nominating Committee consisted of Chair Jeff Jenson (Newsletter Editor), Jamie Martin (Secretary) and Karen Spilman.
- Erik thanked outgoing Ellen for her years of service, both during her years as Treasurer and before.
- Jennifer Johnson and Jenel Farrell placed their names for consideration for President and Treasurer, respectively.
- Jeff read the descriptions for each candidate position from by-laws and the paragraph of intent from each candidate.
- There were no nominations from the floor.
- Candidates were thus elected by acclimation.

Presentation: MAC Spring 2011 Local Arrangements Committee,
Karen Spilman and Ann Kenne
Meeting agenda:
- Co-chairs noted that Chicago MAC was very successful; expected 300, received 450 as a turnout. St. Paul will need to keep this in mind as we continue to plan reception sites and tours.
News & Announcements
Presented by Erik Moore

1. 2010 Professional Development Award
   - For the first time, two applicants tied for the award. The award was split evenly between Stephanie Kays and Leslie Hunter-Larson.
   - Stephanie will attend SAA and Leslie attended MAC
   - Both recipients will provide a short write up for the fall newsletter and a recap for the next meeting.

2. TCART Website
   - Site is momentarily down. It’s still up, but can’t be updated. Erik and Jenel (the new TCART webmaster) will work on fixing the issue.

   - Meeting will include 3 sessions, one of which will be hands on/practical.
   - Meeting is free and includes lunch.

4. Jamie had an announcement to thank Erik for his 4 years of service as President of TCART

Archives Updates

Archives and Special Collections
University of Minnesota-Twin Cities

The Archives and Special Collections (ASC) is going through a reorganization process, allowing us to streamline processes and procedures and situate ourselves for the future. In December, Linnea Anderson, the Assistant Archivist for the Social Welfare History Archives, additionally took on the role of ASC Research Services Coordinator. In this position, she is responsible for managing the central reading room and for organizing reference and outreach procedures across the department.

Beginning in early June, the Special Collections and Rare Books unit and the Manuscripts Division merged to form one unit: Special Collections, Rare Books, and Manuscripts. SCRBM is now the umbrella unit for the Performing Arts Archives, Upper Midwest Literary Archives, Northwest Architectural Archives, Givens Collection of African American Literature, Tretter Collection in GLBT Studies, and general special collections and rare books. R. Arvid Nelsen has been appointed the Head of SCRBM, and he is also curating the Northwest Architectural Archives collection. Cecily Marcus, the curator for the Upper Midwest Literary Archives and the Givens Collection, has also taken on responsibility for the Performing Arts Archives.

Nelsen has also been given responsibility for coordinating preservation and conservation activities for rare materials in the University Libraries. His former role of Archivist at the Charles Babbage Institute has been filled by Stephanie Crowe, who was previously the CBI Assistant Archivist.

Finally, ASC is in the process of centralizing its processing activities, which will allow for standardization and increased efficiency. Karen Spilman, currently Collections Archivist for the University Archives, will be the Processing Coordinator for the department.

Minnesota Public Radio

Thanks to Legacy Funding, MPR is now able to work toward creating access to a treasure-trove of Minnesota history and information.

For 43 years, MPR has been broadcasting vital news and enriching arts programming from and for Minnesota. MPR now has an archive of 36,000 reel-to-reel tapes. The voices of Minnesota newsmakers, the statewide policy debates of the past four decades, the creative voices of Minnesota writers and artists are stored on those tapes. Reel-to-reel is now an obsolete format, Minnesotans have no access to that audio. In addition, the majority of those reels are now at risk, due to aging and deterioration.

For the first time, with Legacy Funding, MPR has made the content of these reels searchable. This has allowed us to prioritize content, as we begin the long process of digitizing this audio.

Preserving the content of reel-to-reel tapes is a painstaking, real-time process. This 70,000 hours of audio will take 70,000 hours to transfer into digitally preserved audio, safe for posterity. Additional resources will be required to fully catalogue this content, and make it searchable.

In FY 2011, MPR will begin to make this content available through a free, searchable, online portal. Since work got underway in March, we have digitized hundreds of hours of these reels, the beginning of what we hope will be an ongoing process of making these historic voices available to Minnesotans.

Please send any questions to archive@mpr.org
Archives Updates—Continued

Minneapolis Institute of Arts (MIA)

The MIA Library & Archives has been awarded a “We the People” grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The funding supports the purchase of archival rehousing supplies to preserve the society’s administrative records and manuscript collections, dating from 1883 to the present.

Founded as the Minneapolis Society of Fine Arts (MSFA), the MIA is among the United States’ top 10 encyclopedic art museums. With over 80,000 works of art, the MIA enriches the community by collecting, preserving and making accessible outstanding works of art from the world’s diverse cultures. The records related to its history and scholarship tell a unique and important story about the development of American art museums during the late 19th, 20th and 21st centuries. They also document the MSFA’s role as one of the Twin Cities “founding father organizations” that transformed the Midwest prairie from a frontier into a vibrant cultural center.

Hennepin County Library

The Hennepin County Library is excited to announce that we have recently digitized fifty of our oldest oral history interviews, and many of these are now available online through the Special Collections webpage: http://www.hclib.org/pub/search/specialcollections/oralhistories/

The majority of these tapes were recorded on cassette in the mid 1970s, and their content was in danger of being lost forever as the magnetic tape has degraded over time. Digitizing the tapes has both allowed us to preserve the interviews for posterity and has also made it possible for us to share many of them online—dramatically enhancing public access to this important collection. The interviewees spanned a variety of professional fields including business, music, art, architecture, and urban planning. The interviewers were a similarly diverse group that included radio DJs, historians, and volunteers.

More tapes are in the process of being digitized and will be added as they become available.

Minnesota Historical Society

In June, the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) awarded the Minnesota Historical Society (MHS) a grant in the amount of $193,357. The award, the largest in this year’s archives -basic processing category, will subsidize the MHS’s elimination of its unprocessed archival backlog (manuscript collections and government records). Of the 4,600 cubic foot backlog, MHS intends to have 60% of it processed, cataloged, and shelved by the end of Fiscal Year 2011. The remainder will be completed in Fiscal Year 2012.

Hennepin County Library

Christopher Welter has begun volunteer work with Hennepin County Public Library’s James K. Hosmer Special Collections, housed at the Minneapolis Central branch. Beginning in June, he is using Archivist’s Toolkit to furnish finding aids for the clubs/organizations collections and personal archives, both part of the Minneapolis Collection. Although the 300+ collections all have annotations available online (http://www.hclib.org/pub/search/specialcollections/clubsandorgs.cfm; http://www.hclib.org/pub/search/specialcollections/personalarchives.cfm), roughly a third of the clubs/organizations collections and three-fourths of the personal archives do not have finding aids.

Minnesota Historical Society

In May, MHS Archival Collections Cataloger Christopher Welter completed processing on the Sandra Massetto collection. The collection consists of two separate sets of records generated or received by administrative judge Sandra Massetto, in the U.S. Department of the Interior’s Office of Hearings and Appeals, during the 1990s. Assigned to White Earth Reservation Land Settlement Act cases, Massetto determined the validity of heirship claims to original allotments made under the General Allotment Act of 1887 (Dawes Act) and the Nelson Act of 1889. She also was tasked with determining the disputed membership of approximately 63 individuals in the Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux (Dakota) Community of Minnesota. The finding aid may be found at http://www.mnhs.org/library/findaids/00779.xml
